

Olmec Trails: Culture and Legacy

June – October 2024

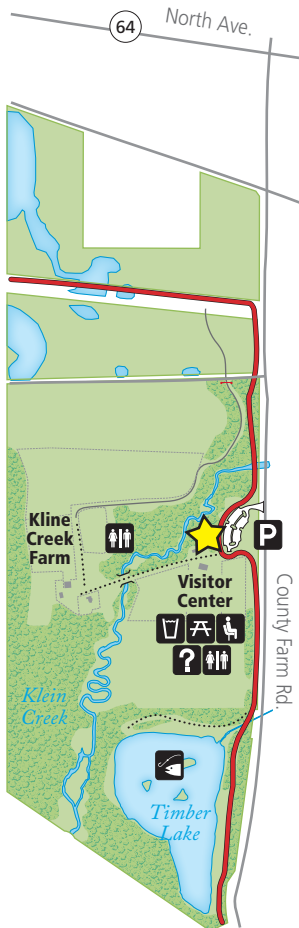

This outdoor exhibit featuring hand-painted large-scale renditions of iconic Mesoamerican stone sculptures not only highlights the culture of the ancient Olmec civilization but also provides the physical and mental benefits of getting outside.

Thirteen of the 33 heads are on display at four forest preserves: Kline Creek Farm in West Chicago, Mayslake Peabody Estate and Fullersburg Woods in Oak Brook, and St. James Farm in Warrenville.
